

Greetings!

Thank you so much for your continued prayers and support for Danielle and me as we train and serve with MAF.

Reflecting on October

Good news came at the start of this month - my official private pilot's licence arrived and the process for converting to a US licence began. Unfortunately, I was met with more paperwork and delays and I have yet to return to the skies. The delay came due to a complication regarding the country my medical was registered in, soon everything will be in order but it has stopped me from building my flying hours for yet another month. Please do pray that the remaining paperwork will come through soon and that this month will be one that is filled with flying time!

Whilst my US licence processes, I have continued my ATPL studies. I have enjoyed deepening my theoretical understanding of different concepts within aviation. It has required a lot of self motivation! I work from home everyday whilst Danielle is busy working at the hospital.

Speaking of Danielle, she continues her work as a nursing assistant. She has found herself getting into a good routine, although understandably after a 12 hour shift, she is pretty tired! We have, however, enjoyed our time settling in here in the States - we are really appreciating having a place of our own for a little while. We have been blessed with several Christian friends around us, and have started settling into a church just a few minutes from our apartment.

What does the month of November hold for us?

November looks quite similar to October. I was hoping to return to the Netherlands at the end of the month for some flight assessments, however due to the licence conversion delay these will take place in January. I will continue my ATPL studies and if everything comes together, start some flying. Danielle will continue her work, and is still trying to pursue some training in emergency medicine. We are also continuing to gather support in the United States and are looking forward to developing further relationships with people and churches close by to us.

How can you pray for us?

Praise God for progress in theory training and for the arrival of my pilot's licence.

Praise God for the blessing of Christian friends and family supporting us, praise Him too for the provision of a church nearby for when we are in the USA.

Pray that the US and Dutch Aviation Authorities will quickly provide me with my American converted licence.

Continue to pray for Danielle, that these next few months will be productive and that she will really be able to develop her skill set. Continue to pray for my studies, that I will get a good grasp of the concepts that I am learning.

Continue to pray that God will go before me and Danielle as we start married life together and as we both continue training in our particular fields.

Please consider supporting us financially. Visit the link below for more details. Thank you!
